

Our country seems no longer to have a free, objective press. When stations like Sinclair Broadcasting think an anti-Kerry documentary is news and force their stations to run it days before an election. This is the same broadcasting outfit that refused to run Nightline when it would honor our dead soldiers (and possibly make people less supportive of the war).

Sinclair should not use public airwaves for its own political agenda.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
